PROFESSOR FLETCHER DROWNED?

Suicide Indicated
In Letter.

POSSESSED A REVOLVER

It was learned this morning that Professor W. J. B. Fletcher left a letter addressed to his son, Mr. B. P. C. Fletcher, at 10, the Peak, in which he declared his intention of drowning himself. In his report to the police yesterday Mr. Fletcher, Jr., stated that, at the time of leaving the house, his father was in possession of a .32 Colt revolver.

No news of the missing man has been received.

Mr. Fletcher, Professor of English at a Canton University, has been missing from his home, 12 Bonham Road, since 10.30 a.m. yesterday.

Prior to the Great War Mr. Fletcher was British Consul at Foochow and served at other Chinese ports before joining the Canton University.

Last night Mr. B. P. C. Fletcher reported his father's disappearance to the Central Police Station and all stations were immediately notified. The description of the missing man, circulated last night, is as follows:

Age 57, height 5 feet 7 inches; short gray moustache. When last seen was wearing a blue-gray suit and brown hat. Front teeth are slightly discoloured, with one or two missing.

DEATH PENALTY

Re-Introduced In Austria.

PRECAUTION AGAINST DISTURBANCES

Vienna, To-day.

An Austrian Government communique, published yesterday, announces the re-introduction of the death penalty, through courts-martial, for murder, arson and serious disturbance of order.

It is pointed out that the new order cannot be regarded as universal martial law, but owing to the coincidence of the anniversary of the birth of the Austrian Republic, and the German elections, on December 12, the Government have considered it necessary to reinforce the powers to deal with all possible contingencies. — Reuter.

HITLER DEMANDS EQUALITY

Germany Should Be Trusted.

NOT A SECOND-CLASS NATION

Berlin, To-day.

In the course of a broadcast address, last night Chancellor Hitler reiterated Germany's desire to stretch out the former enemies.

He added that Germany's security was endangered no less than the other Powers. "Why don't the others trust us? When has the German nation broken its pledged word?" he asked.

"We are ready to go into every international conference, to participate in every negotiation and to sign treaties, but only as equals. "I won't have Germany treated as a second class nation. Either you give us equality, or you'll never see us again," he declared. — Reuter.

GOLD SOLD AT LOWER PRICE

DOLLAR STEADIED FROM 5.16 TO 5.12

WASHINGTON TO FIX MINIMUM
SILVER PRICE?

NEW YORK, TO-DAY.

BY FIXING THE PRICE OFFERED FOR DOMESTIC GOLD BELOW THE WORLD QUOTATION, THE UNITED STATES ADMINISTRATION YESTERDAY SUCCEEDED IN BREAKING THE DOWNWARD SLIDE OF THE DOLLAR AND IN CONFINING THE FLUCTUATIONS TO THE NARROWEST LIMITS.

Opening at the post-war high-water mark of 5.16 to the pound, the dollar strengthened later and steadied around £-U.S.$5.12.

The slump in Government securities simultaneously with the drop in the dollar is attributed to the reduction of the Federal Reserve Board's purchases in the open market to U.S.$10,000,000 weekly as compared with the former figure of U.S.$35,000,000 to U.S.$40,000,000.

The Government's next move is obscure but the fact the United States Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. William H. Woodin lunched with President Roosevelt at the White House, yesterday is taken to indicate that something is brewing in the monetary line.

THE RISE IN THE PRICE OF SILVER IN SYMPATHY WITH GOLD HAS CAUSED THE CONJECTURE THAT THE GOVERNMENT INTENDS TO FIX A MINIMUM SILVER PRICE. — REUTER.

Tailored Suits

Nothing More Useful Or Necessary.

TAILORED suits continue to be the order of the day. No other costume is more necessary, more adaptable, more suitable for so many varieties of occasions that occur during any one day than a suit.

One of the grandest types of this kind of attire is the one having the knee-length or three-quarter coat and the matching skirt. For if the coat is warmly lined it can be worn well into the winter and if it is in brown or black, it can be worn with so great a diversity of accessories that one never gets the chance to become tired of it.

The smoothly fitted knee-length coat, either belted or unbelted, depending on one's figure and absolutely simple in cut, with no eccentricities in padded shoulders or elaborate closings is the best for day in and day out wear. The variety of blouses you can wear with it is limited only by one's imagination and one's means.

Woollen Overcoats

These make smart ensemble with skirts and blouses, and are mostly cut at seven-eighths length. Full-lengths also appear, and one excellent model in the new lighter dark blue has a side leather barrel button body fastening and blue purl and plain knitted wool cuffs and oil-over collar instead of fur trimmings.

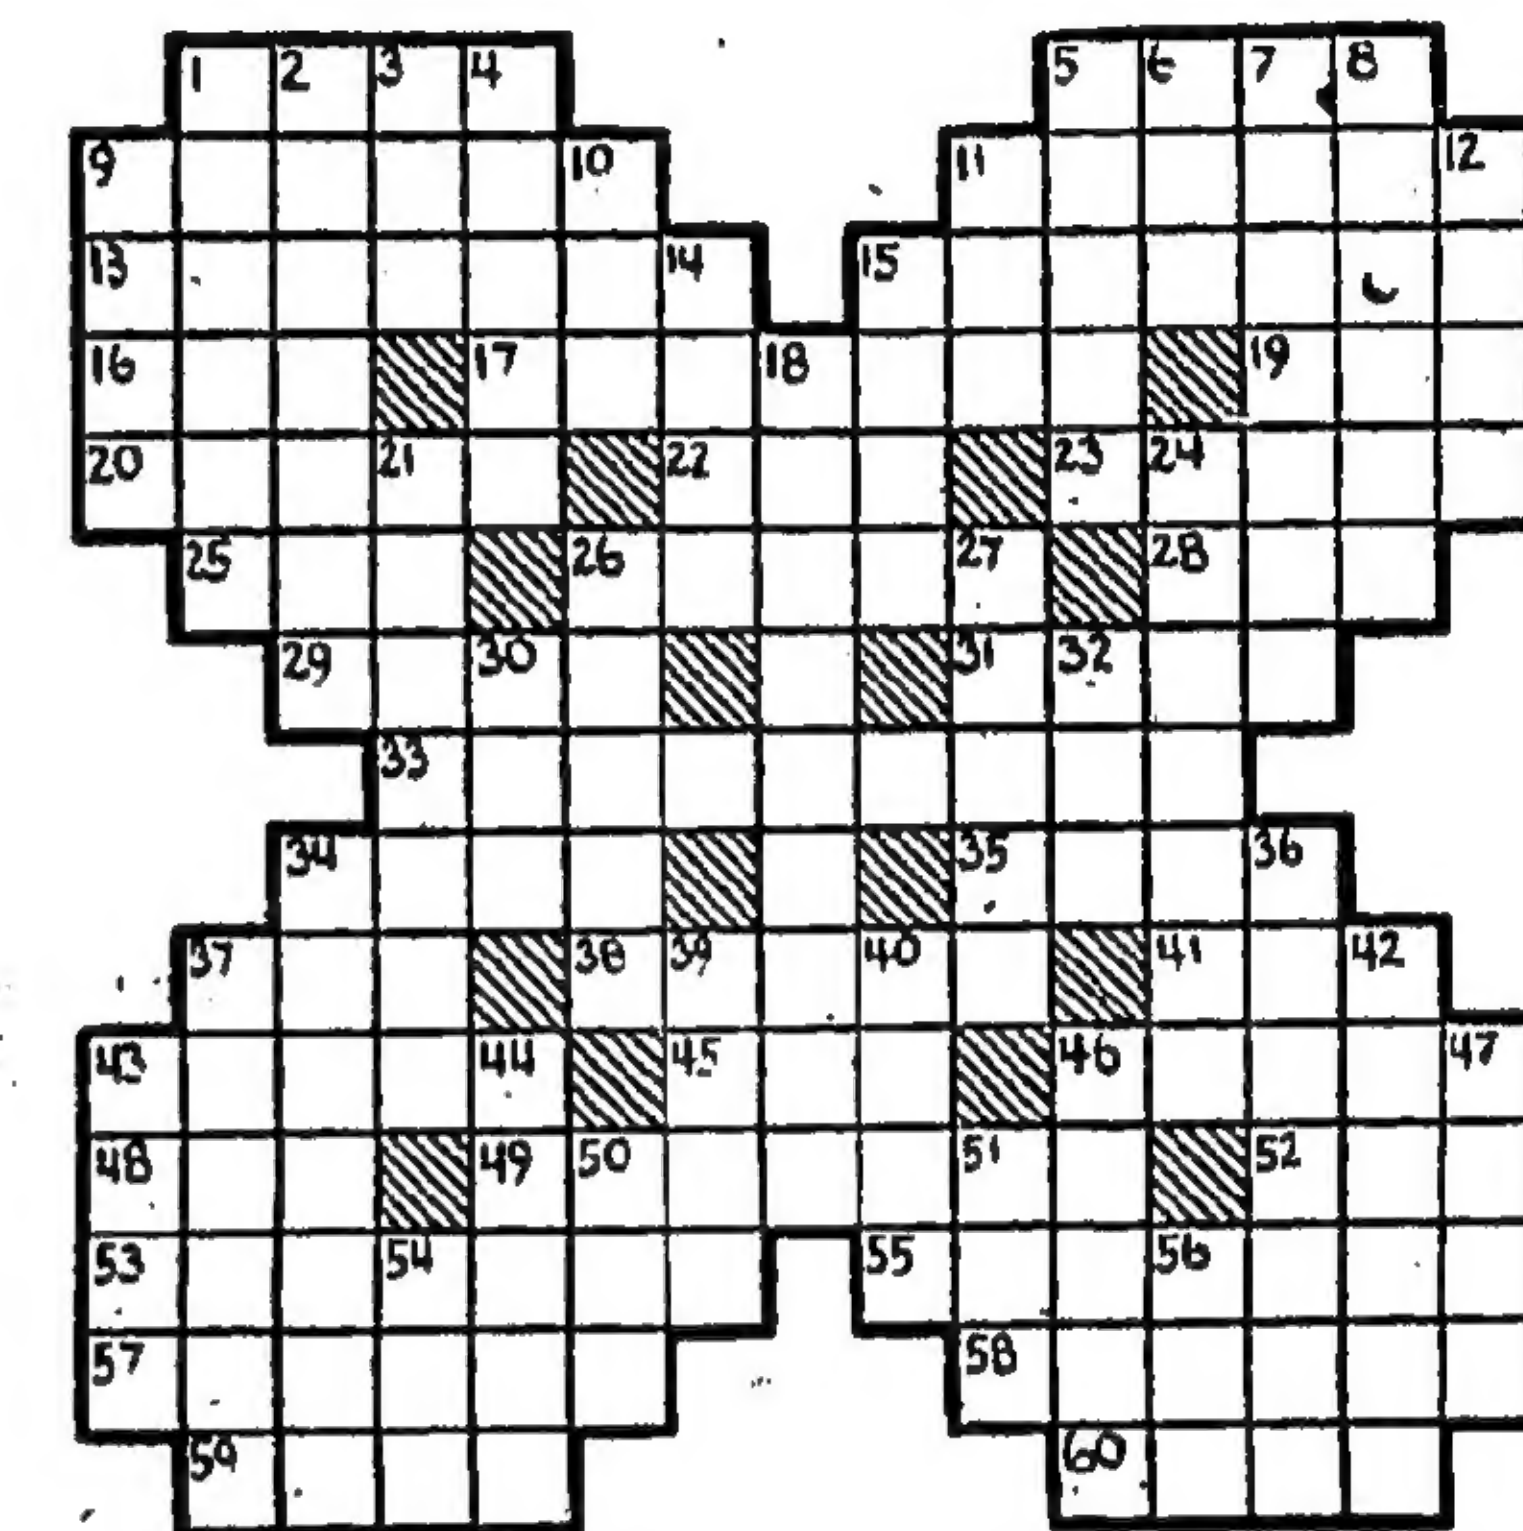

Black Pony And Grey Broad-tail

These are among the few furs used in yokes and scarf collars for overcoats. Summer ermine strikes a soft and unusual winter fur neck-line facing the collar and revers of a dark brown three-quarter length coat. This model has a quaint motif in the form of leather rings dangling from the surface of patch pockets.

MALAYA WICKET-KEEPER HAS WATER ON KNEE BUT PLAYS

CROOME'S PLUCK

PLAYS WITH WATER ON KNEE TO SAVE CAPTAIN

Malaya's Wicket-Keeping Problem.

GILL PLAYS GOOD KNOCK

(By ATHOLE)

Losing their remaining four wickets for only 12 runs after the luncheon interval Malaya beat the United Services by the overwhelming margin of 106 runs at the K.C.C. yesterday.

With his captain suffering from an injured finger, sustained during the Interport, V. Croome pluckily led the side, in spite of the fact that he had water on the knee and was in pain almost throughout the match. It was a very fine gesture.

Without another wicket-keeper it is to be sincerely hoped that Croome will be fit enough to give of his best for Malaya against Shanghai next week. He is undoubtedly a very fine stumper.

G. White, the fast bowler, stood down from the Malaya side, and R. B. Lewis, a slow medium bowler, and W. W. Dean, the umpire, were brought into the eleven. The injured Archie Hamilton was replaced by Major Bonavia in the Services' side.

Garthwaite's Good Bowling

The feature of the match was undoubtedly the bowling of Garthwaite, the Interport all-rounder. Before lunch he took 3 for 25 in 15 overs and wound up the innings with 5 for 32 in 20 overs.

L. F. STOKES is one of Shanghai's best batsmen. He is also a useful change bowler and a brilliant field.

He maintained a much better length than he displayed in the representative match and was plucking on the wicket for at least four balls in every over. The ball that bowled Gibson was a "snorter" breaking back sharply from the off to take the off peg.

Richardson, whose bowling in his first big match was watched with keen interest, did not impress. He was short of a length and only the inability of the batsmen to gauge his pace off the pitch enabled him to return 1 for 17 in 8 overs, which was a flattering analysis.

Gill's Sound Batting

Gill is undoubtedly a very sound batsman, his innings yesterday being far superior to any other. Possessing strong wrists he plays some very nice cut strokes and also exploits a very fine cover drive which has both deflection and pace. He is, however, comparatively weak on the leg side, which is surprising when considering the play of Lall Singh, his brother.

I shall be much surprised if Gill goes in later than No. 4 in the batting order against Shanghai. As Chow Tait is not suited to No. 3 and I think Gill is the man for the position, unless Hamilton is using him later in the list to stop a "rot," which he so successfully did with Morgan against the Colony.

33rd INTERPORT CLASH

HONG KONG LEAD SHANGHAI IN THE SERIES

Owen Hughes To Play In Seventh Interport.

SKIPPER'S 10 FOR 166 IN 1923 ENCOUNTER

The Results To Date

(By Athole.)

THE 33rd Interport Cricket between Hong Kong and Shanghai was commenced this morning. To date Hong Kong have won 16 and Shanghai 14, the remaining two being left drawn.

Of the fifteen matches played in the Colony, Hong Kong have won 11, though our last home triumph was in 1929.

Beck, Ernie Fincher, and Minu are the only members of Eric Mitchell's triumphant team last year in Shanghai in the side this time.

Leach, Booth, Isaacs, Pat Madar, Simpson, and Wilson were members of the victorious Shanghai team in the 1931 match in the Colony. Jenkins, T. A. Madar, Mayhew, and Sinclair are newcomers to Interport cricket.

Owen Hughes, the skipper, is playing in his seventh Interport against Shanghai, his other appearances being in 1923, 1924, 1926, 1928, 1929, and 1931. Teddy Fincher will be taking part in his sixth (1927, 1928, 1929, 1930, and 1931), while Tom Hayward is making his fourth appearance for the Colony (1926, 1927, and 1928).

All the team have played Interport Cricket before, Beck in 1930 and 1932, Ernie Fincher (1930 and 1932), Pereira (1931) and Minu (1932, and against Malaya), while Dunkley, Garthwaite, Pearce and Williams made their debuts against Malaya.

Hayward Averages 25.00

Hayward has an average of 25.00 against Shanghai as the result of his six innings.

"Tam" Pearce has hit the highest individual score of the series—192 out of 279 in Hong Kong in 1920. He also scored 145 not out in a total of 276 for 7 in Shanghai in 1923. Five centuries have been scored for the Colony—Capt. Dunn (1892), Lt. Lumsden (1903), W. N. Edwards (1909), and "Tam" Pearce (1920 and 1923). Capt. E. I. M. Barrett has hit three centuries for Shanghai—100 in 1914, 166 in 1921, and 146 in 1927.

"Tam" Pearce, who played his last innings against Shanghai in 1931, scored 762 runs against the Northerners and averaged 38.10.

Skipper's 1923 Bowling Feat

Owen Hughes took 10 for 166 in the 1923 match and was largely responsible for the Colony triumph by 3 wickets.

The best bowling feat in the series is attributed to E. J. Coxon, who took 12 for 121 in the 1892 game. He took 19 wickets at a cost of just under 9 runs apiece in his Interport career.

Dr. J. A. Lawson's 8 for 66 in the second innings of the 1892 game against Shanghai still remains the best feat in a single innings.

COMPLETE RESULTS

The following have been the complete results of the series to date:

1886—H. K.—Innings and 264.
1887—Shanghai—Innings and 36.
1887—Shanghai—81 runs.
1888—Shanghai—3 wickets.
1891—Drawn.
1892—H. K.—Innings and 132.
1892—Shanghai—157 runs.
1897—H. K.—1 wicket.
1898—H. K.—28 runs.
1901—Shanghai—7 wickets.
1902—H. K.—Innings and 23.
1904—H. K.—4 wickets.
1906—Shanghai—135 runs.
1907—H. K.—4 wickets.
1908—Shanghai—10 wickets.
1909—H. K.—Innings and 224.
1912—Shanghai—Innings and 26.
1912—H. K.—Innings and 38.

YACHTING NOTES

GAFF RIG PROVES SUCCESS AT LONG LAST

Joan's Win On Saturday Confounds Critics.

LILLETTE'S FUTURE DUEL WITH PRIDE OF ASIA

(By CAPTAIN CUTTLE)

G6 "Joan" Mr. Cope's Gael class boat was out on Saturday with a gaff mainsail in place of the more usual gunter rig, and by winning a first in the "I," "Y" and "G" class races confounded all the wisecracks who pointed out that the gaff rig had been already tried and found wanting when the G boats raced under the burgee of the H. K. Corinthian Club in 1905.

G1 "Gael," now renamed "Kingfisher" and painted blue to match the name, is another boat of this class which should show improved performance this season in the hands of her new owner Colonel Bilderbeck.

The local yachting fleet turned out in force for the Opening Cruise and Rowing Regatta at the Royal Hong Kong Yacht Club last Saturday and several additions and changes in the fleet were noted.

The chief additions to the racing fleet are the two new "A" boats, "Pat," A12, with green hull, being the property of Commodore F. Elliott O.B.E., R.N., and "Fury," A13, scarlet hull, owned by Mr. E. Cook and Sub-Lt. Gillespie, R.N.

A13 steered by a lady belied the unlucky number thirteen by coming in first of eleven boats on Saturday over a five mile course.

CHINOOK'S GOOD DISPLAY

Of the cruisers racing on Saturday, on a short course turning to windward, little "Chinook" (Capt. Bolt) did surprisingly well to come in third on corrected time.

"Curlew" and "Typhoon" of the popular 4-ton cruiser class were 1st and 2nd, which was not surprising as their best point of sailing is to windward in sheltered water.

"SHOCK" ATTACK

Beck And Pereira In The Side.

SURPRISING OMISSION OF E. R. DUCKITT

(By ATHOLE)

The Hong Kong Interport Cricket Selection Committee are fielding a "shock attack" in A. C. Beck and F. D. Pereira against Shanghai, a policy I suggested after the first trial this season.

The unfortunate inability of Frank Goodwin and Archie Hamilton to play forced the selectors to unearth new bowling talent, and they could have done no better than chose Beck, undoubtedly the Colony's best bowler on the Club wicket, and Pereira, another fast bowler. Beck is also a very capable left-handed batsman.

The omission of Duckitt came as a bombshell after his bowling feat of 5 for 35 in the match against Malaya and his brilliant fielding.

If it was a question of either Garthwaite or Duckitt I would have been inclined to select the Club player, despite his failure with the bat against Malaya. He is, however, a very nervous batsman and lacks the "big" match temperament.

Hayward's Selection

Tom Hayward's selection came as no surprise following the patchy display of the Colony batsmen in the first match. He should be a useful bat to stop a "rot" but I do not like him as an opening batsman, a position I am inclined to

HOCKEY DISPUTE IN MAMAK LEAGUE

WITHDRAWAL THREAT BY KOWLOON INDIANS

POOR UMPIRING COMPLAINT

(By STICKS)

Threat of withdrawal from the tournament was made by the Kowloon Indian Tennis Club at the monthly meeting of the Mamak Hockey League at the St. Andrew's Church hall last night when a letter of protest was read out to the meeting complaining of the poor umpiring in the games.

The letter was mainly in reference to their recent match with the Police Hockey team on the Police Training School ground, refereed by Mr. C. Mullins (R.E.) and Mr. J. J. King (C.B.A.)

The umpiring of this game was referred to as "absolutely poor" and the play as "a combination of hockey, football and boxing."

The climax, stated the letter, had been reached and unless better treatment was received in future the team would be obliged to withdraw from the League.

Mr. J. J. King, (C.B.A.) and Mr. D. Perkins (Police), who were both present at the meeting, denied that there had been any rough play.

Mr. P. J. Naidu, Captain of the K.I.T.C., said that they were not asking for a replay or any other consolation, but were anxious for the Committee's assurance of proper treatment in the future.

It was decided at the meeting to hold a Mamak Hockey Dinner on December 2, at the China Emporium Cafe de Luxe, in the form of a dinner-concert for gentlemen only. The dinner will be open to Mamak players and the friends.

Mr. O. England White was in the chair, the members present being Messrs. P. J. Barlow, (Secretary), Surin Singh (Radio), B. H. Wong (St. Andrew's Club), D. Convey (R. C. of Signals), J. J. King (C.B.A.), Sub-Conductor Deaker (H. K. Mule Corps), A. W. Kirtan Vaughan (R.A.M.C.), D. Perkins (Police), A. Xavier, (United Club), P. J. Naidu (K.I.T.C.), C. Norbury (12th Battery) and C. P. O. Clark (H.M.S. Medway).

The Spirit of the Game

In dealing with the protest of the K.I.T.C., Mr. Barlow said that

St. George's Society's Golf Team In Making

Match Fixed For Nov. 19

The following is the St. George's Society's Provisional Golf Team for annual Society match against St. Andrew's at Fanling next Sunday:

O. E. C. Marton, T. A. Pearce, L. R. Andrews, G. B. Gifford, Hull, A. E. Lissman, Dr. L. Newton, E. J. R. Mitchell, N. L. Smith, C. E. Holmes, S. H. Dodwell, H. R. B. Hancock, A. B. Raworth, J. L. Shell-shear, H. G. Hopkins, H. F. Phillips and C. W. P. Booker.

Reserves:—E. D. Matthews and L. Goldman.

The following will represent St. Andrew's Society:—F. D. Hunter, A. K. Mackenzie, R. Young, D. S. Robb, C. C. Stark, J. B. Ross, T. R. Channell, K. S. Robertson, W. A. Stewart, T. J. Fenwick, J. S. McLaren, A. McKellar, R. K. Valen-tine, E. W. Kirk, J. A. R. Selby, A. Ritchie.

think he will fill.

Ernie Fincher's inclusion in favour of Redmond will strengthen the batting, but the attack has been weakened. In other words the selectors have taken out four bowlers and replaced them by two batsmen and two bowlers.

We have now Beck, Minu, Pereira, Pearce and Garthwaite for the attack, and if Beck does not come off it may be found wanting.

Owen Hughes made an impressive debut as skipper against Malaya, and his selection in favour of Tom Hayward came as no surprise. I think he has a stronger side under him this time.

it seemed that the League was taking the same course as it did last year. He thought that some teams were forgetting the spirit of the game and sticking too much to rules and regulations. The League could not continue in this way, he said.

Continuing Mr. Barlow said that a letter had been sent to the K.I.T.C. in reply, pointing out the difficulty which was experienced in obtaining umpires for matches.

Mr. Naidu said that he was satisfied with the assurance of the Committee and would let the matter rest at that.

Unsporting Spirit

Mr. J. T. K. Gilchrist, Assistant Secretary, in his letter of resignation said that one of his main reasons for resigning was the difficulty he had experienced in getting umpires for matches. There were 25 names on the list, but none of these were ready to referee games.

It seemed, according to the letter, that the excuses were insufficient and very poor. One of the Mamak teams had actually refused to offer any referees until satisfaction had been received on a certain matter, which, in the opinion of Mr. Gilchrist, was a very unsporting decision.

Mr. Barlow pointed out the difficulties attending the position of Assistant Secretary. Within six weeks eleven matches had been postponed or cancelled for one reason or another.

The Committee, after discussion, made an appeal to the Clubs to assist in this matter as much as possible.

Mr. Guest Elected

On the proposal of Mr. Barlow, seconded by Mr. Surin Singh, Mr. A. E. P. Guest, the St. Andrew's skipper, was elected to the position as Assistant Secretary.

Dinner-Concert

A discussion as to whether the Hockey Dinner should be a Dinner-Danant or a Dinner-Concert, was finally put to the vote with a unanimous verdict for a Dinner-Concert for gentlemen only.

A Sub-Committee was elected to prepare the final arrangements for this dinner, and an appeal was made that all Mamak players would make an endeavour to attend.

MAMAK TOURNEY.

12th Battery Beat Medicals.

At Sookunpoo yesterday afternoon the 12th Battery R.A., secured two points against the Royal Army Medical Corps in a Mamak Tournament encounter, winning by 3 goals to 1.

Lt. Flowerdew (1) and Gunner Williams (2), scored for the Battery, and Sergeant Lane netted for the Medical Corps within a few seconds of the close of play.

DONALD BLACK, the Novice jockey, arrived back from Home leave this morning by the Hector. He requires only one more win to graduate.

WEAK CLUB "A" LOSE 2-0

Incognitos Win At King's Park.

LOWE OUTSTANDING

(By STICKS)

Playing with a depleted team of only eight men the Hong Kong Hockey Club "A" XI did extremely well extremely well against a fast Incognitos team at King's Park yesterday to lose by only 2 goals to nil.

The Club made a wonderful rally in the second half when they not only held their goal intact but actually made several threatening raids on the Incognitos' goal.

H. J. D. Lowe played a magnificent game at centre-half and was mainly responsible for the low score against the Club.

Shields in goal had his work cut out to defend his area, and played a creditable game between the sticks. Notable absentees from the Club eleven were C. C. Francis, and Major Brasler-Creagh. The Incognitos were also incomplete, R. C. Reed being an absentee.

Pintos and W. Reed scored the two goals for the Incognitos early in the first half.

Club "A"—H. F. Shields; L. F. Nicholson; F. W. R. Allen, H. J. D. Lowe, L. A. R. Duncan, H. E. A. Wood, C. R. Halford and S. I. Hill.
Incognitos—H. A. Barros; A. A. Remedios and F. G. Barros; P. M. N. de Silva; W. A. Reed (Capt.) and C. F. Victor; G. E. Barros, J. M. Pinto, A. M. Xavier and A. J. Basto.

INCIGNITOS v JATS

The following will represent the Incognitos in a friendly hockey encounter against the Jat Regiment on the Marina ground to-morrow at 4.30 p.m.

C. Eochai; A. A. Remedios and E. V. Reed (Capt.); P. M. N. de Silva, W. A. Reed and A. J. Basto; C. E. Barros, J. M. Pinto, A. M. Xavier, R. C. Reed and A. P. Souza.

H. K. LADIES' "A" TEAM

The following will represent the Hong Kong Ladies' Hockey Club "A" XI in a match against St. Andrew's Ladies on the Marina ground to-day at 2.45 p.m.

M. Bird, C. Robertson, E. Heffling, M. Wallace, B. Pope, H. K. Lowe, E. Bell, J. Daisel, E. Bonnar, J. Churchill, E. Selby.

H. K. LADIES' "B" TEAM

The following will represent the Hong Kong Ladies' Hockey Club "B" XI in a match against the Club de Recreio Ladies at Sookunpoo to-day at 3.15 p.m.

J. Harris Walker, M. King, H. Westlake, V. Blackburn, B. Hanco, P. Thorpe, M. Bishop, M. Ratty, S. Adams, K. Vornall, H. King.

JATS BEAT LINCOLNS

On the Marina ground yesterday afternoon the 3/9 Jats defeated the Lincoln by 2 goals to 1 in a friendly hockey game. Abdul Ghani scored in each half for the Jats, while Yeomans replied for the Lincolns.

SPALDING for Speed.

The all-important factor in modern lawn tennis is speed and yet more speed. Other things being equal the man with that extra speed wins the match.

The new Spalding laminated multi-ply rackets are the fastest and most powerful ever produced. They can be strung to the highest possible tension without risk of warping thus giving tremendous pace to the ball as it leaves the racket.

The Spalding range of rackets for 1933 comprises seventeen attractive models at prices to suit all purses.

Three Internationals In
To-day's Game.

NAVY AT FULL STRENGTH

The Navy are at full strength for their Rugby match against the Club at the Valley to-day at 4.15 p.m., and should just win what promises to be one of the best matches of the year.

The following are the teams, which include three Internationals in Lt. St. Clair Ford (Scotland), J. A. R. Selby (Scotland), and Lt. Evans (England):

Club—J. P. Whitham, J. J. Ferguson, L. G. Robertson, R. H. Griffiths, G. P. Lammert, J. Hutchison, J. A. R. Selby (captain), E. F. Walker, D. McCallan, I. H. Bradford, D. M. Wheeler, S. H. Garrod, D. C. Moutrie, G. A. Stewart.

Reserves—W. H. B. Rigg and K. A. Munro.

Navy—Lt. Buckley (Sub.); Lt. St. Clair-Ford (Sub.); Lt. Slater (H.M.S. Eagle), Midshipman Darley (H.M.S. Suffolk), Stoker Currie (H.M.S. Berwick), Lt. Miers (Sub.), Lt. Forbes (Sub.); Comdr. Berwick) and Leading-Cook Pascoe (H.M.S. Berwick).

CROOME'S

The Services' attack was very weak, Garthwaite being the only bowler to keep a consistently good length. Barnaby was obviously nervous in his opening overs which were expensive, but he bowled much better later on.

The less said concerning the Services' batting the better. It was pitifully weak after the first four batsmen had been dismissed for 15 runs by Gill and Jonkass, who bowled really well. Croome then very sportingly took off Jonkass in favour of Dean, a slow bowler.

Gibson took a very fine low catch to dismiss Sinclair who was top-scorer with 23.

The Services were given a second knock and in the face of a string of change bowlers and indifferent fielding scored 95 for 5. Walker playing a painstaking 40 not out.

THE AUTUMN CUP

Liverpool to-day—Denbigh (at 10 to 2) won the Autumn Cup yesterday by 1½ lengths from Leigh (9 to 4) in a field of sixteen; Robber Chief (20 to 1) was third, 2½ lengths behind the winner—Reuter.

DISTINGUISHED GUESTS AT SOOKUNPOO TO-DAY

(By Outside Left).

Their Excellencies, the Governor, Sir William Peel and the G.O.C., Major General O.C. Borrett will attend this afternoon's Armistice Day Charity Football game between the Combined Services and the Rest of the Colony, which takes place on the Sookunpoo ground, commencing at 3.30 p.m.

The game is expected to attract one of the largest crowd ever seen on the ground as the Services will be fully represented by practically every branch with the exception of the Air Force, while the Civilians will be on view in what I might term their first real inter-port trial.

Both teams, although more or less representative, are not at full strength, the Services having weaknesses at forwards and in the halves, while the Civilians are poorly represented.

South China's Spirited

JUNIOR LEAGUE GAMES TO-DAY

(By OUTSIDE LEFT)

To-day's League programme will consist of three Second Division games and five Third Division games, the most interesting of which will be the clash between the Club and the Navy in the Second Division on the Club ground and the encounter between the Borderers and the Service Corps at the Valley.

To-morrow two First Division games and one Second Division game will take place.

South China, last season's premier League champions, will be opposed to the Recreio, who caused a sensation at the close of last season when they defeated South China easily.

To-morrow South China will be fielding a strong eleven to make certain of their reaching the top of the First Division ladder.

The Lincolns, present League leaders, will oppose the Chinese Athletic on the Club ground and should give the Chinese a good fight. The Lincolns have been playing good football this season and are so far undefeated.

The Athletic have improved surprisingly and I would not be surprised if they win to-morrow's game.

In the Second Division to-morrow, the same two teams will battle for Second Division honours. The Lincolns are at present holding their own, but the Athletic, who won the championship last year, will make a very strong bid for the points, and may come through with flying colours for a "double".

The following is my forecast:—

To-day.

SECOND DIVISION

(Club, 2.45 p.m.)
BORDERERS	v	Kowloon

PROBABLE TEAMS

FIRST DIVISION
Recreio:—E. Marques; R. Silva; Netto and J. Bowen; G. Goncalves, N. Delgado and W. Maher; T. Castilho; G. Gutierrez (Captain); H. Bouasse; J. Gomes and J. C. Santos.
Lincolns:—Heath, Edmondson and Turner; Dudley, Cork and Betti; Baldry, Col. McGuinness, Higgins, Ridley and Hocquard (Captain).

SECOND DIVISION.
Lincolns:—Deacon (Captain), Col. Eynon and Steiner; Maughan, Worrall, and Robson; Clayton, Chapman, Tate, Pte. McGuinness, and Tons.
THIRD DIVISION
Recreio:—A. Quinn; B. Gann (Captain) and J. Alves; H. Remedios, D.

In the Combined Services team the exclusion of Baldry of the Lincolns or Fairless of the Navy in favour of Snooks of the Artillery was a bad mistake on the part of the selectors, while the inclusion of Cork of the Lincolns instead of Thomas of the Navy was another mistake.

Thomas knows the play of Langmead, the Services' centre forward and his all round play is far superior to that of Cork who can perform well when leading his own team.

Ridley and Hocquard will be the most dangerous combination to-day and these two should give the Rest's defence an anxious time.

On form I think the Services should win by a comfortable margin.

The following are the teams and officials:—

The Rest:—Wong Wing (S.C.A.A.); Hill (Kowloon) and S. Strange (Club); Leung Wing-chui (S.C.A.A.); Chan (Police) and S. Bliss (Kowloon) (captain); Tang Kwong-sum (Athletic); Tam Kong-pak (S.C.A.A.); Howe (Club); Strange (Club) and Blake (Kowloon).

Combined Services:—Pte. Heath (Lincolns); Bdr. Allan (Artillery); Pte. Morrison (Borderers); A. B. Purkins (H.M.S. Orpheus); L/Cpl. Cork (Lincolns); E. R. A. McGuire (H.M.S. Suffolk); B. Q. M. S. Snook (Artillery); Pte. W. Smith (H.M.S. Suffolk); Sta. Langmead (H.M.S. Berwick); L/Cpl. Ridley (Lincolns) and Lt. J. H. Hocquard (Lincolns) (captain).

Reserves:—Pte. Harris (S.W.B.); L/Cpl. Baldry (Lincolns); Pte. Podmore (S.W.B.); A. B. James (H.M.S. Berwick); A. B. Fairless (H.M.S. Kewpie); Lt. E. Hague R.A. (Lincolns); Yeoman of Signals McMurray (H.M.S. Berwick) and C. Q. M. S. Hyde (S.W.B.).

Gill and C. Coelho; C. Santos, A. Pereira, D. Aquino, H. Campos and L. Castilho.
Reserve:—C. Marques.
Lincolns:—Meakin, Martin and Ramsden; Wildy (Captain), Parker and Thompson; Matthews, Dudley, Dudley, Setters, Harper, and Clarke.

R.A.S.C.:—Abbott, Powell and Clarke; Buckland, Gray and Todd; Whitley, Eycott, A. N. Other, Hay and Fullbrook.

TO-MORROW'S FRIENDLIES

The Ful Sing A.A. team will meet H.M.S. Medway on the Recreio ground at 2.30 p.m. to-morrow and H.M.S. Verity on the same ground at 4.15 p.m.

COLONY BILLIARDS CHAMPION'S BEST BREAK OF YEAR

Osmund Chalks up 178

In a friendly billiards match between A. J. Osmund and F. A. Gill played at the Palace Hotel on Wednesday the Colony Champion compiled a break of 178, his best effort this year.

Mr. Osmund's highest break of his career was one of 287, made ten years ago.

YACHTING:

"Lillette" (Dr. Tottenham) under a yawl rig and with a folding propeller should do better this year in cruiser races. If "Ah Chan Chi Hung" (The Pride of Asia), Colonel Macpherson's auxiliary junk rigged yacht, is entered to race among the cruisers I expect to see some tussles between these two.

"Lillette" will have to concede five minutes per hour of elapsed time to "the Pride."

SEA BEAST'S DESIGN

The results of the American designing competition for ocean racers have now been published in "Yachting." The winner is a regular rule beater called by her designer "Sea Beast" from her truly unorthodox profile. She is quite one of the largest and fastest types the rule allows—incidentally she would be rather expensive to build.

The American Ocean Racing Rule measures length some way above the water line and for this reason both bow and stern profiles of "Sea Beast" are somewhat V-shaped with the apex of the V above the waterline to give the line of smallest length.

This profile to the stern can be observed in modern steamers (the Svala has it, Conte Verde and many others) where the counter first slopes inwards in the usual way, the profile then reversing, however, to form a lengthened water line above the rudder and propellers. So that "Sea Beast's" stern profile is only startling to the yachtsman used to a very stereotyped design.

LOCAL DESIGN PUBLISHED

There were forty one entrants for this competition which is of local interest as a design from a member of the Royal Hong Kong Yacht Club has been published in "Yachting" to illustrate the smallest yacht design submitted—a sort of booky prize award so the designer told me.

Except for rather flaring top-sides this little boat is of the conventional 20-ton cruiser type and rather reminiscent of "Tai Mo Shan" in dimensions.

By the way I hope soon to receive some news and photographs of "Tai Mo Shan" in the American yachting papers as she arrived in San Francisco a month ago. "Tai Mo Shan" as we all know is a 42-foot waterline ketch designed by Mr. Rouse, Vice-Commodore of the yacht club, and built at Kowloon Docks. Manned by five naval officers she cleared from here last June for the United Kingdom via Panama.

STEEL COULSON'S BILLIARDS

Favourite's Clean Sweep
Against Artillery.

BREAKS IN ABUNDANCE

(By SPOT BALL)

The Palace Hotel, favourites for the Steel Coulson's Billiards Title, won handsomely on Thursday, recording six wins against the Royal Artillery Sergeants. In spite of the fact that they went without the services of A. J. Osmund, the Colony Champion.

The Kowloon team on the whole gave a fine display of all-round billiards. Breaks, well, compiled, were plentiful, the main ones being Pereira 48 and 35, Gill 47, Silva 29 and 25, Antonio 24, Bower 24 and Morgan 20.

Sgt. Beeston with a break of 20 and Mr. Pine played very well for the Gunners, but the opposition proved too strong.

The Garrison Sgts. lost their 100 per cent. record when, although winning on aggregate by 141 points they shared six games and therefore lost half a point.

S/Sgt. Clarke, runner up in the Army Championship, gained a smashing victory over Sargent by 105 points.

St. Patrick's Club had a close call against the Royal Engineers, sharing the six games, and just winning on aggregate by the narrow margin of 9 points. L. E. Remedios obtained the best win of the match when he defeated Lieut. Regan by 62 points.

Scores:

Palace Hotel	R.A. Sgts.
Silva	105 Beeston
Pereira	150 Pine

H. K. UNIVERSITY MATRICULATION

School Certificate Equivalent.

REASONS FOR DROPPING "LOCALS"

The following statement, intended for the information of the general public, has been addressed to the Secretary of the Board of Education by Mr. Mr. N. L. Smith, Director of Education, on the abolition of the Senior and Junior Local Examinations and the creation of the School Certificate.

"At the last meeting of the Board of Education I was asked by a member to provide the Board and the general public with a statement as to the reasons which led to the substitution, which will become effective in 1935, of a School Certificate Examination for the old Hong Kong Senior Local Examination, together with the abolition of the Junior Local Examination.

Public attention was probably first drawn to this question by the remarks of Mr. de Rome, Headmaster of Queen's College, at his prize giving in 1930, when he pleaded for a wider test than the old Matriculation Examination, namely, a pass in each of the seven "basic subjects of a good general education" viz English, Chinese, Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, History and Geography. Up to the present it has been possible to obtain Matriculation on five subjects, and there was the not unnatural tendency among candidates to go in for what are known as "soft options".

The School Certificate

A year later the same Headmaster was able to state publicly that the proposals in question, which he described as the "coping stone of educational reform in Hong Kong", had the almost unanimous support of those engaged in education in the Colony. After much preliminary work, the Board of Education, on February 2, 1932, passed a resolution favouring the abolition of Junior Local and Senior Local Examinations and the substitution of a School Leaving Certificate.

It had always been generally understood that the only possible examining body, even for an examination which was still intended to be completely divorced from Matriculation, was the Hong Kong University. The year 1932 therefore saw a gradual evolution of the new syllabus, with discussion between the Matriculation Board of that University and the Education Department, details of which may be studied in the Regulations for the 1935 Examination now published.

Full University Examination

Meanwhile a complication had arisen. It had originally been held that the Certificates should be issued by the Director of Education and that he would presumably have the final decision as to a pass, even though the University staff set and corrected the papers. But in November 1932 the Senate of the University decided to accept the new examination for admission to certain of its Faculties. In view of this, the Board of Education in April 1933 appointed a Committee of five members (all except myself actively engaged in the teaching "profession") with full powers to settle outstanding points. This Committee, unanimously agreed that the new Examination could not be other than a University Examination in the fullest sense, once the principle of admission to the University by its means was conceded. They also recommended that the new syllabus, as representing the normal secondary education provided in the Colony, might well be taken as the basis for Matriculation generally, subject possibly to a higher percentage of marks being required than for the Certificate proper.

This principle, has now been accepted by the University. The word "Leaving" is now omitted and the full title is "Hong Kong University School Certificate Examination". Please circulate.

Mr. Roosevelt's Monetary Policy.

By all the signs the great American experiment is approaching a crisis. The acid test of the whole scheme was always its success in restoring employment. But the "blue eagle" drive has defeated itself by its own excesses. It was initiated at the beginning of August with an objective proclaimed as the taking up in two months—that is, by October, the beginning of the American winter—of 6,000,000 of the stated 11,000,000 unemployed. There has been some improvement in the employment figures, but very little impression seems to have been made on the deadweight of unemployment, which the American Federation of Labour puts still at 11,000,000. President Roosevelt said the other day that "the realization of the domestic recovery drive cannot be attained in six months." Higher prices of commodities have increased costs of relief. Because of labour troubles or inability to operate at a profit under the codes, some businesses are shutting down, and throwing more employees out of work. The President has now ordered a special organisation to prepare for the unavoidable problem of winter relief of workers and dependents numbered at some 35,000,000 souls. To this work the Federal Treasury is contributing 350,000,000 dollars, and State and local funds will bring the total up to 700,000,000. With the growth of the power of organised labour the first attack on the N.R.A. administration is developing. The American Federation of Labour is preparing for a clash with employers who are antagonistic to the codes, but is also demanding firmer administration by the authorities. Mr. Green has declared "unflinchingly" against inflation of the currency—that is, in support of the President against both Middle Western farmers and the inflationists of the "brain trust." The A.F.L. policy thus indicated allies itself with the more conservative advisers of President Roosevelt against those inflationist advocates who, as the "New York Times" recently declared, are elated at the present difficulties of the "normal credit machinery." Hostility in the American business world is growing against the dangers to the administration of the influence of certain members of the "brain trust," and the pronouncedly Socialist affiliations of several of them are reproduced by Mr. F. Britten Austin in an article in the "Nineteenth Century" review. The American business world has not forgotten the inquisitorial methods of Mr. Baruch during the war, when, as autocrat of the War Industries Board, he had, as he boasted, "more power than any other man." General Johnson, head of the N.R.A., is a partner of Mr. Baruch in business, and was Mr. Baruch's nomination to the post he now holds. Mr. Roosevelt's gold plan is still in the experimental stage, and has done little yet but perplex the banking and economic experts. Of his attitude towards inflation, Mr. Roosevelt is maintaining caution. It has been indicated that his decision must be either for inflation, or for stabilisation of the dollar against sterling in co-operation with Britain. In the suggested issue of so much "flat money" and no more, American business places not the slightest confidence. Warnings of the flight of capital abroad are a restraining influence with the President. He has so far tried the orthodox method of credit expansion, the purchase by the Federal Reserve Bank System of Government securities in the open market. In the latter part of August these purchases were suddenly greatly accelerated. But the banks complained that, with the lack of "good borrowers," this effective increase in banks' cash reserves only aggravated the existing situation, which was not one of lack of money. To assist further "credit expansion," the Reconstruction Finance Corporation was instructed to subscribe up to 50,000,000 dollars to the preferred stock of any one hard-pressed bank or mortgage company, which will issue the new cash in loans, allowing the bank 2 per cent. commission for endorsing borrowers' notes. The aim here is to assist the reopening of 375 banks in the States whose assets are frozen. A further proposal is the President's offer to spend 400,000,000 dollars in purchase at 10 cents a pound of unsold cotton held by farmers in exchange for agreements to reduce acreage. The farmers are holding out for 15 cents. But business enterprise, already hard hit, and required to take up employment under the codes, knows that it will have to pay the cost of all these subsidies, and demands that Washington shall cease to play with inflation. If, on that point, employers and wage-earners are standing together, Mr. Roosevelt might, by dismissing his extremist advisers, find a chance of inaugurating a real national effort on that solid basis of unity which he has been seeking.

Nazi's English Education

Herr Hitler has a former English public school boy among his Ministers. This is Walther Darre, the 38-year-old Nazi Minister of Agriculture, who is becoming increasingly prominent in Nazi councils. In 1911 he was a pupil of King's College School, Wimbledon. On his father's side Darre, who was born in the Argentine, is of Huguenot descent. His mother was a Swede. His father, a prosperous merchant in the Argentine, was very pro-English. The boy wanted to be a soldier, but the father objected. Like many overseas Germans he was prejudiced against the pre-war German officer type. He brought him up on English lines and sent him to Britain to school. After leaving King's College School, Darre went to the German Colonial Institute, a kind of agricultural college for overseas training. He intended to be a colonial farmer. Then the war, in which Darre fought for four years on the Western front, robbed Germany of her colonies. He turned his thoughts to home agriculture. He went to the University of Halle, passed all his examinations brilliantly, and was appointed an agricultural attaché to the German Foreign Office.

A Talkobiography

It is stated that M. Maurice Chevalier is to make a film of a novel kind: a talkie autobiography. M. Rene Clair, of "Sous les Toits de Paris," may direct the film. Chevalier was born in Montilmontant, Paris, of working-class parents. He was in turn electrician, carpenter, printer, and factory worker before he took to the stage with the ambition, at first, of becoming an acrobat.

NUDISM AS A SOCIAL FORCE100,000 FOLLOWERS OF
CULT IN U.S.

NATION-WIDE SURVEY MADE

New York. Nudism secures all the physical benefits of sun bathing, and much besides. It produces quite remarkable psychological and social results, and may have decided effects upon the character. Nudism interests religious people.

An interesting account of his visit to a nudist camp is furnished by John C. Moffitt, a member of the staff of the Kansas City Star, who dispels at once any notion that this form of recreational and esthetic adventure is merely vulgar or coloured with a Lupercalian tinge. Mr. Moffitt was accompanied by his wife and her cousin, a young married man. The first thing the investigator will learn, he says, is "that the leering impressions of nudism, gleaned from the vulgar comic magazines, reveal no facts save the type of minds possessed by the people who draw for them. The thousands of persons practising nudism in Europe can scarcely all be vulgar. Neither can the increasing hundreds who go about without their clothing in the various camps through the eastern part of the United States."

Many Husbands and Wives

Admission to any of these camps, we are informed, is permitted only after the most rigid investigation of the applicant. Husbands and wives make up a good part of the enthusiasts, while, for obvious reasons, bachelors are not encouraged. To quote from the principles and standards of the International Nudist Conference: "We believe in the essential wholesomeness of the human body and all its functions. We therefore regard the body neither as an object of shame nor as a subject for lewd or erotic exploitation. Any attitude or behaviour inconsistent with this view is contrary to the whole spirit of the society and has no place among us." Our purposes are not exclusively physical or cultural or esthetic, but rather a normal union of all these.

Perhaps the real drawback to nudism is not that it conflicts with conventional morality but that it clashes head-on with romance," writes Wayne Gard in an extensive article on the subject in the Dallas News. "To many of their patrons the nudist camps are extremely disillusioning."

Mr. Gard observes that many non-nudists admit that the movement has much to offer toward education and health. "These sympathizers fear, however," he says, "that, instead of becoming a natural part of the life of normal people, nudism will be taken up by cranks and faddists who, with their Coney Island Edens, will make the movement as ridiculous as the Fletcherism or the Couleism of recent decades."

Whatever its fate, nudism is one of the observable phenomena rising on the American scene, and occupying a paragraph in the daily record. As it is, near-nudism is being practised on practically every beach in the country.

N.R.A. FARM FAIR
FOR ROCHESTER.Hog Birth-Control And Other Things.

Tacoma, Washington. Mayor Walter Tripp of Rochester, Washington, has decided to put his town on the map by holding there the first N.R.A. farm fair in the nation.

"In view of the N.R.A. calling for limited production, hog birth-control and stunted acreage, our fair will be devoted to a demonstration of patriotism," the Mayor said. "To show the absolute impartiality, no prizes will be awarded and the winners will be adjudged by the handclapping of the audience."

Judges will consider the following entries:

1. Leastest Hog.
2. Bushel of smallest wheat.
3. Most sterile quart jar of soil.
4. Cow giving least milk.
5. Farmer raising poorest garden.
6. Farmer entering lowest exhibit.

ARMISTICE DAY CEREMONIAL

Impressive Service At The Cenotaph.

LAYING OF WREATHS

Greeted with brilliant sunshine in a cloudless sky and attended by an enormous crowd, this morning's Armistice Day ceremony at the Cenotaph presented a brilliant spectacle, the naval, military and Volunteer units lending colour to the scene.

Troops surrounded the Cenotaph, while spectators thronged the Law Courts Building, the Hong Kong Club and all vantage points in the vicinity of the square.

Poppy sellers were busy on all the roads leading to the Cenotaph.

Among those present at the ceremony were the Interport Cricket Teams from Malaya, Shanghai and the Colony.

His Excellency the Governor, Sir William Peel, K.C.M.G., K.B.E., arrived at the Cenotaph three minutes before 11 o'clock, and was met by official representatives of the Services.

After the ceremony, His Excellency and Staff, together with other officials, attended the Chinese Memorial Service at the Botanical Gardens.

The programme was as follows:

10.45 All troops and representative bodies were in position.

10.49 Officer Commanding, Royal Air Force, arrived.

10.50 The Commodore, Hong Kong arrived.

10.52 His Excellency The General Officer Commanding arrived.

10.53 The Clergy and Choir arrived. They rendezvoused prior to this hour in the Law Courts.

10.57 His Excellency The Governor arrived.

10.59 Massed buglers of the 1st Battalion, The Lincolnshire Regiment and 1st Battalion, The South Wales Borderers sounded the "Last Post".

11.00 One gun was fired by one of His Majesty's ships.

11.00-11.02 The Silence.

11.02 The gun fired a second round of blank to terminate the Silence.

11.02 Buglers of the 1st Battalion, The Lincolnshire Regiment and 1st Battalion, The South Wales Borderers sounded "Reveille" immediately after the last sound of the second round had died away.

11.03 "O God our Help in Ages Past" (Played by massed band).

Prayer and Blessing by Clergy.

11.07 On conclusion of the hymn, His Excellency The Governor laid a wreath followed by:

(i) The General Officer Commanding.

(ii) The Commodore, Hong Kong.

(iii) The Senior Air Force Officer.

(iv) Royal Merchant Navy.

(v) Representative of the Chinese community.

(vi) Representative of Consular Body.

(vii) Representatives of foreign navies and armies.

11.10 His Excellency The Governor, His Excellency The General Officer Commanding, Royal Air Force, the Officials, Clergy and choir departed.

11.12 Wreaths were laid by Group "B"—Royal Navy, Military and Air Force, British Legion and Old Comrades Associations.

14.15 Wreaths were laid by Group "C"—All Civilian Bodies.

All troops and representatives remained silent and "at ease" until Group "C" completed the laying of wreaths.

11.20 Troops marched off. Individuals then laid wreaths.

CEREMONY AT CHINESE MEMORIAL

On the conclusion of the Ceremony at the Cenotaph, His Excellency the Governor and Staff, followed by His Excellency The Commodore, Officer Commanding, Royal Air Force and the Executive and Legislative Councils, rendezvoused at Government House and proceeded to the Chinese Memorial on foot.

They arrived about 11.45 a.m. and proceeded to lay wreaths. At

Collecting Taxes On Canton Imports."VOLUNTARY CONTRIBUTION"

Canton, To-day.

The much-talked-about suggestion of the imposition of certain rates on imported goods, for the support of seamen strikers, appears to have been translated into fact since yesterday.

A number of steamers, on arriving at Canton yesterday, were boarded by the staff of the Chinese Seamen's Union, who took note of all goods before collecting the so-called "voluntary contributions" at four different rates, in accordance with the values of goods. The minimum rate is set at ten cents for each cubic ton, while the maximum rate is 40 cents.

Judging from yesterday's developments some owners complied with their demands and paid on the spot, while others preferred postponing payment till later.—Central News Agency.

Mr. Wang Ching-wei On Sino-Japanese Policy.

Nanking, To-day.

In a speech delivered at a meeting held yesterday by the Nanking Legislative Yuan, Mr. Wang Ching-wei declared, in effect, that negotiations with the Japanese must be conducted on the principles of non-recognition of Manchukuo and non-degradation of the jurisdiction of China.

He assured the Legislative Yuan that the Government would never deviate from its declared diplomatic policy.—Central News Agency.

RETROCESSION OF PASSES ARRANGED

Peking, To-day.

A report from reliable sources states that definite results have been obtained in General Okamura's negotiations with the Peking authorities in regard to the outstanding problems of the ex-war zone.

Regarding the problem of taking over control of the passes along the Great Wall, it has been agreed that the Chinese Government shall take over control of Shan-shikwan first, while other passes will be retroceded to the Chinese as soon as detailed arrangements for the purpose are completed.

In dealing with the bandit situation in Luantung, the Special Chinese Police forces will be permitted to maintain their existing strength in order to carry the anti-bandit campaign to its full success.

Through railway traffic between Mukden and Peking could not be realised in the near future, as detailed arrangements for the purpose have not been completed.

The suggestion of restoring postal communication with Manchuria is beset with considerable difficulty and it is believed that no decision has been reached on this problem.

General Okamura arrived in Tientsin from Peking yesterday morning. He called on General Yu Haueh-chung, Governor of Hopei Province, in the afternoon. He is expected to return to Changchun by air early next week.—Central News Agency.

Today's Short Story.Louis De Rougemont

By Edith Sitwell.

THE adventures of Monsieur

Louis de Rougemont, narrated as they were in the "Wide World Magazine" for August 1898, caused a stir throughout the whole of our Empire. I find myself obliged to turn to "Sober Truth," the authors of which have the utmost industry and sympathy dug up and reproduced for us Monsieur de Rougemont's history.

The "Wide World Magazine's" announcement of Monsieur de Rougemont's narrative of his adventures begins thus:

"We now commence what may truly be described as the most amazing story a man ever tried to tell. In all the annals of geographical science there is practically but one case that can be compared for a moment with M. de Rougemont's, but in that instance the man returned to civilisation a hopeless idiot, having lost his reason years before, amidst his appalling surroundings. Quite apart from the world-wide interest of M. de Rougemont's narrative of adventure, it will be obvious that after his thirty years' experience as a cannibal chief in the wilds of unexplored Australia, his contribution to science will be simply above all price."

"He has already appeared before such eminent geographical authorities as Dr. G. Scott Keltie, and Dr. Hugh R. Mill, who have heard his story and checked it by means of their unrivalled collection of latest reports, charts, and works of travel. These well-known experts are quite satisfied that not only is M. de Rougemont's narrative perfectly accurate, but that it is of the very highest scientific value. We also have much pleasure in announcing that arrangements are being made for M. de Rougemont to read an important paper before that great scientific body, the British Association for the Advancement of Science, at their next Congress, which will be held in September at Bristol.

"The narrative is taken down verbatim from M. de Rougemont's life and, apart from all outside authorities and experts, we have absolutely satisfied ourselves as to M. de Rougemont's accuracy in every minute particular."

Life among the cannibals had, it seemed, taught M. de Rougemont to "size up" human nature fairly accurately; and none knew better than he the value of the "Dog-the-Friend-of-Man" theme as a softening factor. No head so soft, no heart so soft, that these could not be mollified still further by a really good story about a virtuous and courageous dog.

M. de Rougemont's history therefore ran thus. In the early 'sixties he was engaged in pearl-fishing off the South coast of New Guinea, and in the course of this industry, and in mid ocean, he found himself alone save for the Captain's dog. A storm arose. Where was the Captain? Where was the ship's Company? Where was M. de Rougemont's partner? They had vanished, leaving M. de Rougemont in charge of the Dog.

For a fortnight these two inseparable companions navigated the ship, drifting hither and thither, and sharing each other's joys and sorrows, and then—probably just as M. de Rougemont was telling the Dog some simple poignant story—the ship struck a reef and was seen to be sinking. Man and Dog sprang into the sea, and began to swim towards a small island; but the tide was too strong for M. de Rougemont, and he, like the ship, was seen to be sinking.

Then it was that the Friend of Man, sagacious and faithful, held out his tail to the drowning M. de Rougemont who, with a last effort, seized it between his teeth and in this manner was towed ashore. The companions found themselves on a small island one hundred yards long, ten yards wide and eight feet above the sea-level.

Here they made themselves as comfortable as they could, by means of the furniture from the wreck, and settled down to a life of work and of thought, and of such sports as turtle-riding, and deep-sea diving on the backs of the turtles.

"I used," he tells us, "to wade out to where the turtles were and, on catching a big six-hundred-pounder, would calmly sit astride on his back."

"Away would swim the startled creature mostly a foot or so below the surface. When he dived deeper I simply sat, back on the shell, and then he was forced to come up. I steered my queer steeds in a curious way. When I wanted my turtle to turn to the left I simply thrust my foot into his right eye and vice versa for the contrary direction. My two big toes placed simultaneously over both his optics caused a halt so abrupt as almost to unsettle me."

Here they remained for two years, undisturbed, and then four naked savages, a man, a woman, and their two children, were blown up to the island by another gale. The savages were friendly, especially the woman; they seemed pleased to see Monsieur de Rougemont, and he learned their language, and was informed by them that they were Australian aborigines. The woman, whose name was Yamba, was peculiarly intelligent, and taught him many things about the customs and language of the Australian negroes, which proved invaluable to him when he came to resign over them.

It may be said that Monsieur de Rougemont had, by this time, discarded all clothing, in preparation for his future state.

These inseparable friends at last decided that they would try to reach the mainland in a boat they had constructed, so, after full preparations, they set out on their journey. A few days passed, and appeared on the horizon, and Yamba and her husband and children proclaimed joyfully that it was their native country.

When the Portuguese steamer Gaza arrived here, it brought with it a negro fisherman of Dakar (Senegal) who had been picked up in the Atlantic in a small "dongo" (native boat made with a tree stump and a sail).

According to the Chief Officer of the Gaza, the castaway was heard making guttural cries from his dongo one dawn when the Gaza was three days out from Bulama (Portuguese Guinea).

The engines were stopped and the negro hoisted on board. He was dressed in a turban and a long shirt. All he could say was "out" and "non."

But as soon as Lisbon was sighted, the castaway managed to make signs for a sailor's suit and a razor for a "good shave," despite his previous close shave.—Reuter.

Louis De Rougemont

"The moment I landed on his back I struck the alligator with all my force with my tomahawk on what I considered the most vulnerable part of his head. So powerful was my stroke that I found to my dismay that I could not get the weapon out of his head again. While I was in this extraordinary situation—standing on the back of an enormous alligator and tugging at my tomahawk embedded in its head—Yamba came rushing up the path, carrying one of the paddles, which, without a moment's hesitation, she thrust down the alligator's throat as he turned to snap at her.

"In this way the monster was prevented from moving his head either backward or forward, and then drawing my rifle, I blinded him in both eyes, afterwards finishing him leisurely with my tomahawk, when at length I managed to release it. Yamba was enormously proud of me after this achievement, and when we returned to the mainland she gave her tribesmen a graphic account of my gallantry and bravery. After the encounter with the alligator, they looked upon me as a very great and powerful personage indeed."

Great and powerful, however, as was Monsieur de Rougemont, he decided that it was, by now, time that he should shine once more in the outer world, and as he had given up hope of being rescued by any passing ship, he decided to make a journey overland, accompanied by the faithful Yamba. With him he took not only Yamba, but a "native passport"—a kind of masonic mystic stick, inscribed with certain cabalistic characters. Every chief carried one of these sticks, stuck through his nose. I, however, invariably carried the passport in my long luxuriant hair, which I wore "bun" fashion, held in a net of opossum hair. This passport stick proved invaluable as a means of putting us on good terms with the different tribes we encountered."

Here the editor of the "Wide World Magazine," stirred to the foundation of his being by the events narrated by Monsieur de Rougemont and by those which followed, explains that "The publication of the preceding instalments have, we may say, caused some truly amazing developments of the story, people having turned up here long since believed to be dead. We cannot say much about these developments, but we earnestly advise our readers to follow the story with the closest interest. Arrangements are already being made for its translation into several European languages from Spain to Sweden. M. de Rougemont begs his hundreds of thousands of friends not to think him discourteous if he is at present obliged, through pressure of work, to decline all social engagements, lectures, arrangements, etc."

Monsieur de Rougemont now underwent a most remarkable and efficacious cure for the chilly feeling by which he was beset as a result of an illness. Having killed a big bull, "I determined to test the efficacy of a very popular native remedy for fever—for shivering fits still continued to come upon me at most abnormal times—usually late in the day. No matter how much grass poor Yamba brought me, I never could get warm, and so now I thought I would try some animal heat.

"Scarce had the life left the body before I ripped the buffalo open between the fore and hind legs, and then crawled into the interior, fairly burying myself in a deluge of warm blood and intestines. My head, however, was protruding from the animal's chest.

"Yamba understood perfectly well what I was doing, and when I told her I was going to indulge in a long sleep in my curious resting-place, she said she would keep watch and see that I was not disturbed. I remained buried in the bull's interior for the rest of the day and all during the night.

"Next morning, to my amazement, I found I was a prisoner, the carcass having got cold and frigid, so that I had literally to be dug out. As I emerged, I presented a most ghastly and horrifying spectacle. My body was covered with congealed blood, and even my long hair was all matted and stiffened with it. But never can I forget the feeling of exhilaration and strength, that took possession of me as I stood there, looking at my faithful companion. I was absolutely cured—a new man, a giant of strength."

Alas, this story, and others equally remarkable, proved too much for certain members of the public, and these persons (as I think, very unkindly) set about exposing this poor harmless creature, who had injured nobody, and whose worst crime was that he had given a little innocent amusement to others, brought a little harmless romance into his own threadbare life.

Letter after letter appeared in the "Daily Chronicle" challenging the Cannibal Chief to prove the truth of his statements, to appear in person. Natively and courageously he agreed to appear at the offices of the "Daily Chronicle" in order that he might be asked questions, and his persecutors were surprised to see "an elderly man, slightly built, with a tanned, wrinkled face, the upper part of which bore obvious signs of marked intellectual power. In a pleasant, cultured voice he gave such ready replies to the questions that were put to him that his examiners were disconcerted." This, too, was the fate of those persons who baited him at public lectures.

But the "Daily Chronicle" was determined on his ruin, and after having made the most exhaustive inquiries, it published the true story of poor M. de Rougemont's uneventful threadbare life.

He had never been a cannibal chief, though he had once risen to the position of being butler to a Lady Robinson in Australia. His real name was not de Rougemont, but Grin; he was a native of Switzerland, and had once been footman and courier to Fanny Kemble. In the early seventies he led a wandering life in Australia, and then, in 1898, enlisted our shores with his presence.

glad to think that he enjoyed fame and prosperity, even for such a short time, but his subsequent fate is cruel and undeserved.

Mr. Osbert Sitwell, in his preface to the book from which I have culled this narrative, tells us that the writer remembers so well and for so many years seeing a tall bearded figure, lank and stooping, selling matches in Shaftesbury-avenue or Piccadilly. This ghost of the streets was dressed in an old ragged overcoat, over the top of which the thin hair fell and showed above it a calm, philosophical, curiously intelligent face. He was told repeatedly that this man was Louis de Rougemont. Whether this information was accurate or not, certainly with the reported death of the explorer or impostor, whichever he was, this sad thoughtful spectre withdrew itself from the haunting of a busy world.

I wonder if the persecutors of this harmless creature ever passed the man they had so wantonly ruined, and, if so, if they felt ashamed before that mild and uncomplaining gaze.

Husband Killed Adviser

Rumanian "Doctor"
Arrested.

SEQUEL TO MYSTERIOUS
POISONINGS

Bucharest.
A woman who confesses to having "advised" dozens of ill-treated wives how to rid themselves of their husbands has been arrested by the Rumanian police.
Her arrest follows investigations into a bewildering series of deaths in Transylvanian villages. All the victims were married men.
They had been attacked by a sudden and peculiar sickness which puzzled local doctors and even the specialists who were consulted.
Typhoid fever was given as the cause of death in some cases, but in others it was impossible to certify the disease.
Finally the outbreak became so alarming that eight bodies were ordered to be exhumed from the cemetery at Shiria, a village about 20 miles from Arad, and sent to Bucharest for examination.
Medical experts found traces of arsenic.
Suspicion fell on a peasant woman, a fortune-teller and self-styled "doctor" named Florita Duma, who was known to share the secrets of many homes in the district.
This woman has now made a full confession of her part in the crimes, implicating some of the wives of the dead men, five of whom have also been arrested.

Many years ago, it appears, she suffered from the violence of a brutal husband and tried to poison herself with a solution made from fly-papers. She became seriously ill, but eventually recovered.
Later she set up as a fortune-teller and, having gifts of healing and prophecy, soon became well known in the villages.
Women who were unhappily married came to her with their troubles, and she told several of them the secret of her "poison." In some cases she helped them prepare the draught, which was administered to their husbands in wine or beer.
Detectives are now trying to find out how long Florita Duma has carried on her deadly work and in how many villages she has operated.

NEW MOTOR ROADS
FOR GERMANY

Berlin.
The first section of the great new motor highway which is to be constructed from Frankfurt to Bale has been inaugurated by Chancellor Hitler.
This is the beginning of the 4,000 mile network of motor car roads planned by the Chancellor to provide work for the unemployed, and it is expected to occupy some 300,000 men for a period of from five to ten years.

SEQUEL TO TAX ON BEER

Berlin.
If the inhabitants of Tanagermuende, on the Elbe, which is now celebrating its 1,000th anniversary, had not refused 450 years ago to pay a 3d. tax on beer, it—instead of Berlin—might have been the capital of Germany.
In 1480 Elector Albrecht of Brandenburg, known as Albrecht Achilles because of his great strength, introduced a tax of 3d. on a barrel of beer.
Tangermuende, widely known for its excellent brew, refused to pay the tax even fired on the Elector's suite as it was approaching the city castle. Albrecht subdued the town by force.
Eight years later, in the reign of Johann, Albrecht's son, the Tangermuenders again revolted against the beer tax.
This time, instead of using force, Johann inflicted a more severe punishment by transferring his court and government seat to Berlin, then an unimportant fishing village of 2,000 inhabitants.

A UFA SPECIAL

Always have GARDAN in the house!

In the tropics pain and illness are particularly liable to appear suddenly. In headache, toothache, neuralgia, rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, muscular pains, and above all in fever and its accompanying symptoms, GARDAN is of definite value.

When you are out of sorts remember:

GARDAN
prevents and stops pain
